

Parisian Extravaganza

What is it?

A dazzling adventure through a seductive, continental atmosphere. It is the turn of the 19th Century in a fantasy Paris, colour and vibrancy rule the streets and seedy underground cabaret entertainment is king. Here, the excitement and thrill of the nightclub draws thousands from miles around.

A theatrical spectacular - it's the joie de vivre!

How does it work?

Guests are transported into an electrifying world of intense colour, light and sound to suit your audience and budget. We have an extensive collection of theming, decorations and entertainment: speak to us to design your perfect den of iniquity!

Example Evening

Approaching the room, guests wander through dimly lit French streets with balconies, painted street cafes and tables dressed with gingham tablecloths. The sound of a lone French accordionist can be heard in the distance.

Guests will then proceed through the stone effect Montmartre entrance, to be greeted by French courtesans and experience the turn of the century splendor of the Moulin Rouge! The distant sounds of can-can music will be emanating from the cafes and clubs.

Red lights reveal exotic ladies in black lace dresses, who address the guests with broken English and a sharp French accent. The main dining area is dressed in the style of a Parisian club - with each table adorned with a table centre of red and black plumes.

Red and orange uplighters on dimmers are positioned around the room draped with red fabric and twinkle lights, standing beneath a backdrop of the Moulin Rouge windmill and the Eiffel Tower.

Star cloth material twinkles behind the stage and a projector screens the Moulin Rouge movie and themed images through the hazy air and onto the walls and ceiling.

During dinner, without warning, music will strike up and the French courtesans will scream and leap into action - performing a series of can-can style routines. After their final performance, they will encourage guests onto the dance floor to continue the dancing...
