

Pub Games Evening

What is it?

An enjoyable evening of activities to form the basis of, or enhance any event.

A Pub Games Evening offers traditional and contemporary games in a relaxed and informal environment, allowing guests to network whilst enjoying activities at their leisure.

How does it work?

A Pub Games Evening is highly flexible and works just as well before or after dinner, or as the central entertainment to a day or evening event.

Guests can approach the night in teams or individually, and competitions can be arranged in all the activities, with an amount of fun money or points awarded to winning participants. Otherwise, the evening can purely be structured for fun and relaxation, with guests taking part in the games freely.

With a massive mixture of table top, giant, interactive and traditional games, you are free to pick and mix the perfect selection of games to suit your audience and requirements.

Example Games

Air Hockey

A fast and furious 'table-top' game where two players compete to hit an air-propelled puck into their opponent's goal. Super fast action requiring hand-to-eye co-ordination.

Bagatelle Game

A game of skill that is related to billiards. Players shoot balls from the square end of the board with aim of getting them to land in scoring holes – each with a different points value.

Bar Football

Available as a single table for 4 players, you are guaranteed to have the crowd cheering for their team. For an additional charge, you can create a double table for up to 8 players at a time.

Dominoes

Most people in the West are familiar with double six dominoes but for those who like to take things a bit further, this double nine domino set should make things more interesting.

Giant Connect Four

Could it be simpler? The aim of this game is to get 4 in a row, using your designated coloured discs. A giant sized version of this classical game.

Giant Jenga

A 4ft high game where players aim to build a tower of blocks as high as possible, by carefully removing the bottom pieces and adding them onto the top. Pull out the wrong block and the whole structure collapses!

Shuffleboard

Each player is given three chances to slide discs along the two metre table in an attempt to get them through 4 arches (numbered 1 to 4) at the other end. Players have an incentive to aim at low scoring compartments as well as the high ones because each set of 4 discs in 4 compartments scores double.

Shove Ha'Penny

The famous English pub game in which players attempt to shove old coins up a board so that they stop between horizontal lines. At first glance, it appears simple, but you can bet that the pub locals will beat you every time!

Skittle Alley

Competitors try their hand at knocking down the pins in our giant 26' x 4' alley. Extra points available for a strike.

Table Skittles

Also known as Devil Amongst the Tailors or Bar Skittles, this is one of the most popular indoor pub games. Just like full size skittle alley, each player has three attempts to knock down the skittles, but in this space-saving version, the ball is swung around a pole - toppling the skittles upon its return.

There are a wealth of other games and activities able to be integrated into a Pub Games Evening. These include blind tasting competitions, giant buzzer games, a dance mat simulator, juke boxes, giant chess, a pub quiz with MC, pinball machines, darts boards and pool tables to name just a few.
